Another Valuable Invention.

GATES' BACK-SUCTION PREVENTOR FOR OIL WELLS, patented August 24, 1871, which entirely prevents the ingress of air into wells, while the tubing is being drawn. It is well known fact to all operators that open wells where Gas Pumps are used, it is necessary to prevent as nearly as perfect vacuum as possible, and that water should be let into the well at any time, when it can possibly be avoided; consequently, whenever the tubing is drawn in to a well it is the cause of great injury to it. As the tubing has been then necessarily opened, the air immediately rushes back between the tubing and casings, into the well going inside oil rock and gas veins, and consequently ends the oil and gas to rush back to a great distance. So much so, that it almost always takes several days after pumping is resumed for a well to be brought back to its former condition, and oftentimes it takes several weeks and quite frequently wells have been almost completely ruined by the air being thus let in while drawing tubing.

The BACK-SUCTION PREVENTOR is attached to the tubing box and works in such a way that it completely shuts up the space between the tubing box and tubing so effectually that not a particle of air can get through at any time while the tubing is being drawn and replaced. It supplies a vacuum equal to, if not greater than, one of the most valuable inventions of the day, in this regard in the oil business. No well should go without this as it often saves ten times as easy by one thing.

It is manufactured in the FOUNDRY AND MACHINERY SHOP OF ANDREWS & CO., TIDWELL, PA., and for sale Hardware Dealer.
